

OLIVIA PINKNEY

ASSISTANT CHIEF CONSTABLE

SUSSEX POLICE

Olivia was appointed as Assistant Chief Constable for Sussex Police in June 2009. She is responsible for Protective Services within the Force, including crime, intelligence, counter terrorism, major operations, road policing, policing protests and firearms. She is also the South East Regional lead for serious and organized crime.

Born in Devon, Olivia went to school locally before moving on to study Mathematics at St Catharine's College, Cambridge.

Before joining Sussex Olivia spent 17 years with Avon and Somerset Constabulary where she gained wide experience of leading policing within challenging communities and with partners from statutory, private and charitable sectors.

Olivia is a trained and accredited Gold Commander for Firearms, Public Order and CBRN.

Olivia considers herself very fortunate she is happily married with a young son is healthy and surrounded by friends and family with whom she shares many varied interests and activities.